THE Rising Legacy FOUNDATION

Where Global Partnerships are Formed

Girls and women at risk: supportive relationships, confidence, education, life skills, and leadership opportunities.

Men: purposeful leadership, life skills, accountability, family and community contribution.

At-risk individuals: stronger support networks, practical skills, and self-defined progress.

Eligibility and referral arrangements: to be developed. This model does not replace clinical, crisis, or specialist services.

PROPOSED MEASUREMENT

Track mentor matches, attendance, retention, self-reported confidence and belonging, learning milestones, goal progress, and service participation. Use entry and completion surveys, session logs, mentor reviews, participant feedback, and consented follow-up where feasible. Set numeric targets, cohort size, budget, and timelines before launch. Reporting should include challenges and learning, protect privacy, and use appropriate consent and safeguarding procedures.

POTENTIAL FUNDING PRIORITIES

Mentor preparation; educational materials; participant access; leadership workshops; community partnerships; evaluation capacity. Final allocations require an approved budget.

GLOBAL VISION

Explore locally led partnerships, culturally responsive resources, and accessible digital learning. International delivery is an aspiration, not current operations. Expansion depends on community input, resources, safeguarding, partner readiness, and evidence.
